CATALINA ISLAND, CALIFORNIA

Catalina's "Airport in the Sky" was built in 1941 by blasting away the tops of two adjacent mountains and filling in the adjoining valley. Located at an elevation of 1,600 feet, the "Airport in the Sky" has a 3,250 blacktop runway. Due to the sharp drop from each end of the runway the airport was used for aircraft carrier landing practice during World War II. Today the "Airport in the Sky" is a favorite destination of mainland flyers who enjoy the island's remote charm and a lunch of buffal burgers.

The "Airport in the Sky"

CATALINA ISLAND, CALIFORNIA

Standing proud upon Casino Point, the magnificent Casino building is a beautiful welcoming site for Catalina visitors. Brilliantly illuminated at night, the Casino building becomes a shining sea beacon which has been seen from the mainland. The casino is 180 feet in diameter with a height equal to a 12 story office building and was completed in May 1927.
